Rishmond, Va., April 1, 1908.

THE FIRM OF LANCASTER & LUCKE is this day disselved by mutual consent; either partner will sign in liquidation.

Mr. Wm. H. Lucke will hereafter be found at the banking house of Messirs. John L. Williams & Sons, corner of Ninth and Main Streets. Richmond, where he will be pleased to meet and serve, to the best of his ability, the friends and clients of his late firm.

Mr. John A. Lancaster finds that the Richmond Insurance Agency, in which he has acquired an interest, and of which he has accepted the secretaryship and treasurership, will require all of his time, and he will hareafter devote his attention to the insurance business.

We desire to express our grateful appreciation for the patronage which has been bestowed upon us by our clients during the past thirty-four years, and we cordially ask that our friends and customers intrust hereafter their business, which they have heretofore given us, to Messire, John L. Williams & Sons, whose long experience, ample capital and high character entitle them to the fulless confidence of those who may have occasion for the services of bankers brokers or dealers in investment securities.

Respectfully.

WM. H. LUCKE
